

House of Commons
Canada

February 6, 1973

Mr. Peter Brannan,
Chief, Hansard Reporting Service,
Parliament Buildings,
Toronto, Ontario.

Dear Mr. Brannan:

I apologize for the delay in answering your letter. As I expect to retire in about a year and a half, I have discussed your proposal with John Robertson, my second in command. We are of the opinion that the benefits to be gained from meetings of the kind of organization you suggest do not appear to be substantial enough to justify its establishment.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Newall L. Price".

Newall L. Price,
Chief, Hansard Reporting
Service (English)